LIVE CAMS

Live cams suddenly. Live cams were starting. Live cams have a new way of working. Buffering. Live cams start buffering at the time of any event. A live cam of the day and night makes sure that it all happened. When one enters a room a live cam will begin in January. A live cam is generally in one direction only for the purpose of these tests. For testing live cam feeds.

Margot on the fritz. Margot doesn't have anything to do. Margot places a hand on each side of the table. The table holds well for itself. Margot has no other means to do it. The table needs to be held in New York City or somewhere around that area. Margot can get there easily. Margot on the fritz lately and I'ma let you finish but Beyonce had one of the best ways to get there and back. Margot stopped working. It's not a matter of public interest. Margot predicted it. The table weighs about the same amount as it did earlier. From February 2nd to February 6th Margot let the table alone.

The live cam is properly working. It started in the early stages of planning. There have since been no complaints. Margot really makes sure that it is not anything too serious. It's so funny. From January 4 to January 8 Margot liked this.

From January 10 to February 1st Margot turned off the live cam for the first time. Margot moved. This took away from the main point of it. Margot had two windows open at once. One window shows the name of the file under the conditions described. One window shows the results obtained by these methods. The live cam hasn't changed. A live cam is beyond control. Margot said that they were not able to stand it upright on the table for long enough. It kept getting stuck.

Margot opened the door. What's a frog doing here? What's a frog doing near the door? It covers most major areas. A frog jumps into the water sometimes. This has become more apparent since the frog is rather wet. What's a frog anyway? Frogs do this every now and then. A frog is able to go in a tree and wait for further developments. Why are they by the door? This one particularly. What's a frog doing here? Margot says something like: "This has been another busy year for the first time in a while." The frog stays.

After February 6th Margot took a live cam and put it on the floor. It went on the fritz. The floor area was measured according to the number of people who have been involved over time. A background detail is also needed. The live cam improved gradually due to the addition of these two types of procedures. It became necessary. Margot had the intention that every thing would appear to be in place. The sound was surprising given the low level of interest. Margot appeared to be having second thoughts. Margot has no control over this.

A comedy scene. Margot falls. Margot does the opposite of that. A live cam. The frog gets on the table and sings a little tune where the frog gets angry and fires back at Nokia. Nokia didn't mean it that way. It was all a misunderstanding. The end. Margot has to be in New York City soon or else. The live cam doesn't have any more time for the next few weeks. It has to get them together. Get it out of the room first. Then just the table. Yes. Start it off with another great presentation. Focus brought closer to the table. It would be described as anything but another one of those sites that you can not use. But a live cam cannot zoom on its own. It has to be pushed. Focus pull. Established. Focus pull. On the contrary. It was so hilarious.

A live show. Margot attempts to remove all style.

Margot only just adjusted the chair a few seconds ago. Update. There are no comments yet. Open the cabinet or cupboard and pick out music worth listening to. Margot said this. A power outlet. Margot had to get another opinion.

What about the table. This table is only for conducting interviews of great terseness. It's not ready. Margot apprehended that. Margot called it the most dangerous film of the summer. Privately. On Monday the live cam wasn't for you or your use of the site. Margot is particularly impressed with the way the cam can hide itself. It's not as stupid as Margot thought. How does one be stupid privately. Oh fuck it. On Tuesday a live cam only broadcasts the lawn. Also a few blocks away a television is in need of repair. It looks to be very useful. A television can only get better.

Margot has yet to become popular but it's only a matter of time. Here are some examples. The floor area of the kitchen keeps putting everything on hold due to lack of time. There is simply not enough time. Margot has learned to live in New York City by now. Give it a chance. On Wednesday Margot has an accident. Intentionally. The main purpose of a live cam is to distribute attention. This works best under the most preferable conditions. Some very interesting and demanding ones.

Decide what you want to do Margot once the live cam has been pushed forward enough. The window changed. Trees and other landscaping features were undergoing treatment. Margot as well. Margot can't seem to lift the trophy in the cabinet. A trophy will last for a such and such amount of time. Then give it away. The live cam points towards the landscape and the natural history of these events. One could learn from this.

Ugh. Margot doesn't impress your friends. Your friends email each other and themselves in the middle of the day. Can't you do anything about this guy? Geez.

The table now displays the correct number of items. A live cam can't adjust itself. It has to be taken from one side of the room to the other side of the room. Wait. Margot checks on the heat. It came on and now it works. On Tuesday morning the live cam wasn't able to show that, due to some agreement with the theoretical framework.

Margot pretends to be on live cam. It's all a game of cat and dog. At 2 p.m. on Saturday Margot opened a box. The cat was sleeping inside of a clothes hamper and a supplementary bibliography was provided. First of all. Notice what is wrong. Second of all. Arrange to have a look at the available documents.

A table usually is never empty. A box and a live cam. One places one's hands in a particular position to establish an appropriate procedure. Take a frog. Take a mixing board. Check on them every now and then.

The live cam in the bedroom on Friday. Margot doesn't listen to anything else except for Pauline Murray's first solo recording. Yes. Don't argue Margot. Don't. Don't argue against this possibility. Margot listens to what Margot pleases. Margot is listening to these songs only to the extent that we are in agreement. Are we in agreement with previous estimates. They may not be approximate. One should guess from the title of the songs. They have different tempos.

November 9th turns out to be another example of live cam use. This one chair in particular means everything to Margot. It has been reported to cause significant environmental effects. Margot said this. Without delay. This afternoon Margot moved without notice under the circumstances described. It lasted for three hours. The live cam remained in good working order.

On November 10th Margot placed a sewing machine near a pair of stereo headphones and a bowl of cereal. Cereal is often difficult to get. One can't get it. Consider what type of event you're planning around a table. This one is not in use. It's never empty. Margot put a hand on the door and another on the top of it. Margot paused and forgot about it. Live cams make no noise when dormant. The room most adjacent to the site is subject to additional terms and conditions. It has been observed that there were several collections of plates and dishes also kept private in Margot's name.

The most preferable angle between the table and its corresponding live cam has finally been given. It was last modified at 5:41 PM. Margot stays. If one places a cloth in front of a cupboard it prevents it from getting any 'random play'. It must remain in the background. Margot has no ability to control the temperature of the water in the apartment. Margot turns on the faucet. It either gets frighteningly hot or very good. IMDb says it is not surprising. The faucet goes unused for very short durations. For instance on November 19th the first person to flag this content as inappropriate or offensive has failed to demonstrate any relationship between two variable domains.

In a window Margot looks at a few boys playing with a beach ball. It is raining. The landscape is very flat.

A cell phone and other devices sit upon the table briefly. Margot gets a cell phone. It is without service near the end of the month. It can also take pictures and send messages. A part of the page dropped upstairs. Live.

Is a live cam really live? What Margot did before it was no one's business. Fix it to a particular angle and begin. Margot tested it. It wasn't live. A live cam. And recording. Margot had to take the cam and put it somewhere particular in the room. It's a non-issue. Margot dressed up for these events. The clothes were important but not essential to consider. A microphone. Lights located on the same level make for a great cam.

The bathtub and sink. A certain railing. Windows. Margot getting closer to the scene-at-hand. Presently. The table.

Margot lived in New York City and then moved to the next one closest to it. Call it anything you like but your browser does not support frames. Margot otherwise supported frames and the various types of them. At other times. The stove-top appliance. Knock it off. Put a frog near a jacket. Wait. A live cam doesn't recognize behavior. A behavior can occur if there are multiple authors or mediators to record its use. Live. Latour argues that there is adequate information in the actual material. Nothing else under any cultural or institutional term i.e. intermediary. Give Margot a minute. Margot could talk for hours. Eventually appropriately connect the sites. Material can be managed within any genre. But who authorizes its use and agency within that given genre? One section of the floor meets a door-stop. It springs. A variable operation.

Water in a glass on November 16th. Margot had a look. A table. It is deferred later in the live cam. Margot was familiar. Have you ever been to a wedding. Many things occur including flowers.

Stop thinking about those clothes there. Margot doesn't conduct close readings. A body rub located near the edge of the shower area made from brown sugar and lemon. The live cam is quite participatory. How different is it mentioned colloquially. Margot has been described in terms of volume and density. Or, music that is played while in bed with another person (cf. that episode of Sex and the City where Samantha dates an African-American male hip-hop music producer and his sister confronts Samantha — who is seemingly overprotective of her brother, particularly when it comes to race relations — ; and Carrie meets Aiden — “coffee turns into a movie, a movie turns into a long walk...”)

July 2nd: Margot spent quite some time in front of a bookcase. Then a living room.

First the body. No. First the place. No. First both. Now either. Now the other. Sick of the either try the other. Sick of it back sick of the either. So on. Somehow on. Till sick of both. Throw up and go. Where neither. Till sick of there. Throw up and back. The body again. Where none. The place again. Where none. Try again. Fail again. Better again. Or better worse. Fail worse again. Still worse again. Till sick for good. Throw up for good. Go for good. Where neither for good. Good and all.

First, the body. No: first the place. No: first both of them - now one, now the other. When I'm sick of one I'll try the other. I'll go on like that (somehow go on) till I'm sick of both of them - till I throw up and go away to where neither of them are. Till I'm sick of that too. Then I'll throw up and come back: to the body again (where there isn't one), and to the place again (where there isn't one). I'll try again and I'll fail again - fail better again. Or (better) I'll fail worse again, fail still worse again. Till I'm sick of it for good, throw up for good, go away for good to where neither of them are, for good: for good and all.

A live cam settled itself. On July 14th Margot listened to three songs. The dimensions of the gallery space were 16 feet 8 1/2 inches by 13 feet 9 inches. The height to the bottom of the untreated wooden beams of the open beam ceiling was 7 feet 4 inches and to the actual ceiling plane, 8 feet 3 inches. On the east and west walls of the gallery there were two vertical structural reliefs extending from floor to ceiling and projecting 6 1/2 inches and 7 inches respectively into the room, both having a 9-inch width. In the southwest corner there was a floor to ceiling recess 1 foot 4 inches wide and 7 inches deep. The walls were composed of brick, cement, and plaster and finished with a white acrylic emulsion. The floor was reinforced concrete, finished with gray polyurethane. There was a door 30 inches by 62 inches and a window 34 1/2 inches by 50 inches in the south wall opening to a garden patio which was 24 1/2 inches above the basement floor level. Furthermore, there was a passage 75 inches by 40 inches in the east wall which connected the basement with the upstairs galleries. The basement area was illuminated with natural light from the patio door and window, and with artificial from two overhead fluorescent light tubes.

History of the live cam. The live cam may have been placed in the room by accident. Many called in and voiced their concerns. But it was in fact no accident. Margot walks around. Margot lifts a table. A telephone call by an 'anonymous' author had no effect on the visual material but neither did the overall genre produced by the featured player, Margot, in this particular case. One may have been watching and moved in a certain way while sitting. One inadvertently viewed one's own activity so as to fabricate some sort of [illusory] 'event' that involves the material being broadcasted and its accompanying emotions, vis a vis its architecture, climate, temporal conditions, or whatever. It was very well live. The refrigerator has not turned on for over 6 minutes. The telephone calls that were enacted that evening during the broadcast took the form of published interviews or unpaid critical writing; although, rather than paying for one's writing materials—typewriter, laptop, electricity, ink, paper, etc—the radio waves and satellites that made possible for the distribution of this particular form of communication were 'always being paid for' by virtue of their existing as supports for telephonic (or in this case, textual) production. The tone of the calls underscored the viewers' urge to protect the live cam from error and their desire to prompt the site into restoring normalcy to the broadcast. Ultimately, this impulse might have been linked to the caller's own identity, to the degree that the caller's sense of normalcy was affirmed by recognizable cam content. In attempt to change the broadcast, within a delay—the delay as the moment one decides to make the telephone call—, the broadcast was changed by virtue of this procedure of materially 'activated' viewing, in the sense that it circulated and distributed an extra-visual anxiety via news reports, oral communication (hearsay, gossip), etcetera. What was actually being shown and transmitted live (Margot, tables, whistling, door knocking, dishes, and so on) was rendered irrelevant in relation to its contingent affective response by the spectator.

A DVD resting upon the table. No artificial lighting is used.

Epigraph for a live cam. Winter. A car and a bed. Some boxes. Is it a coincidence. Margot looks expressionless. Then coughs. It goes only to the adjacent wall. Coughs have no recent activity.

Between March 2nd and March 4th Margot didn't use any word with the letter "s" in it. Margot performed etc / passwd entry. The live cam has no correlative strategy. It has climate control. This involves both physical and translational levels of service. Plenty of sampling. A distraction is having several windows open at once.

Now: Dusk. Grey. It's still light enough for tennis. The balls thud through the grey dusk. It's still light near the bay windows, too, though farther inside the dining room the lamps are still on.

The windows are open. The hot spell is lasting. Where does one play tennis in NYC? A grey sweatshirt is needed to be worn.

Complete darkness. The lights are on the grounds. On the table is a white envelope.

June 13: [I] could not have said whether or not it was the longest or not. Whether it was longer than the card-playing scene, for example. But is it for practical reasons, or for completely different reasons that there are certain number of shifts of scene from the book to the film? Scenes which, for instance, took place in the book in the main dining room of the hotel take place outside in the film, or vice versa.

June 14: It was because we had only one room to shoot in, one room and a little adjoining room.

June 15: That is to say that [Margot] in fact didn't have a room representing the main dining room of the hotel?

June 16: Yes, but we finally replaced it with a terrace. We didn't have a hotel building. Someone had lent us the grounds, and an old converted stable ...

June 17: So it's for purely practical reasons that [Margot] shifted various scenes.

June 18: Yes, yes. But there were two possibilities—outside or inside—for all the scenes.

June 19: But did you intentionally change from inside scenes to outside ones, or on the contrary ...

June 20: This was done deliberately, and what is more, [Margot] couldn't do anything else because the weather was so bad. [Margot] took the scene of Alissa's arrival with her husband out of doors, for example, because [Margot] had filmed the preceding scene indoors since the weather was bad ... the scene with the letter.

June 21: The card-playing scene too.

June 22: Yes, and then too there were some scenes that in any case could only be indoors: there are two of them.

Sorry Margot, but I think I'm gonna have to pass on this one. I'm sure the babies are very sexy, and yeah, I understand that they're waiting (presumably for me and not for, say, a bus or a phonecall or something), but I've got a lot of shit to do today. I feel really bad turning down a membership considering this club was clearly designed specifically for me (who, after all, are all those sexy babies waiting for?!), but I'm busy and I don't know what I'd be expected to do once I actually joined and, well, golly. I'm sorry, Margot. Really. I am. Maybe if you or your sexy friends had a totally free live cam somewhere that I could watch? A live feed just 4 me? That would be just splendid. Also, it would help if you really actually existed. That would be a good place to start. We could just sort of, you know... take it from there.

Margot pinches it. Margot takes a bath. A box covered in plastic. Don't use a sharp object to open it. Beside a live cam it must be rid of all debris. Margot left the cam and went to an indoor swimming pool.
