Oldham's passo/job congrats zord dreams

6lc Oldham. Welcome to the team, you got the job and we are happy you have the team. Your CV is/was impressive and your foresight proceeds you and your team are going to be happy about your foresight. There are some formalities about this and you are your only team member, not quite the same as advertised but you get the picture okay? Any I digress.

Your desk is set up how you like it judging from your internet presence. A hundred Japanese objects stacked, rock roll headphones with extended mini jack extended)3M(3Meters) :) Evenly spaced obviously, we know how to run a business. We know you like wires, it is all around the office and the water cooler haha.

There is also the issue of pay as you may understand. You will be paid in full.

All you have to do is keep giving small answers to long and boring questions.

23.33pm here.

06/12.2012./

THU (according to my mobile) 0 missed calls WOOPS DIDN:T MEAN TO POSTTHAT IT IS REALLY DARK SO FORGIVE MY TYPING ERROS

All of us extend our hands for the shake and we hope you are ready for a rollercoaster.

The best,

The Team

Re: ALSO

These are impressive art is encouraged in the office because pictures say more and more words. Our minds are so open/ The team are going to get these printed in A3 or A4, perfect size for a team to view.

Three things to bear in mind:

- There is coffee everywhere from the downstairs coffee chain. I hope you like coffee!
- Don't worry about yr lost credit card you get a company one it has loads of money on it maybe over $100 dollars (UK) for now.
- We think you should quit at Art Bagel we feel there has been enough art for one day. I'm so starving but don't worry the canteen will be open so soon. Those lunch ladies are so funny.
- here the team know how you feel about the internet and we value your efforts, people can be terrible but your eye for pictures I am sure of it.

If you have any questions don't feel hesitant about it.

Payday is on the 7th, just in time for a big day.

Thanks again for your hard work

Guest Editorial
MY PERSPECTIVE
By Mike Rennet

In the city there's only 4 things I would recommend - enough food, enough sleep, somewhere to live, and something to do. Love is not important in the city, it's tainted. By what? Modernity. I think you know what I mean, and I don't have to elaborate on that.

You know maybe I can tell you something personal. When I was a kid I had no sense of pride - i shuffled around with my shoes untied, and did the kinds of things kids do. Now I'm a grown up and I comb my hair and walk correctly. But something is missing, I'm not sure what it is. Should I not comb my hair or leave my shoes untied? Of course I'm going to continue combing my hair. But I think you must see what i mean about why kids are pretty interesting.

In some ways the city is like a child...as if i'm watching a kid do something all wrong. Do you tell him? Or just let him have his fun? It's a tough call...sometimes I do get a feeling like this city needs to "be told". It's as if when the city cries, you can't tell if they're tears of laughter or tears of joy. I mean you really just can't sometimes.

When I go out to bars with my friends, I like to have a good time. People say that alcohol can be sad, but no, that's not true after all. One of the best things you can do in life is to feel free, or like you have less responsibility to yourself and others. Now that's how I spell C-I-T-Y. And I talk rather a lot!

Now if you're reading this thinking I'm standing still in my own poison, mortified by my past and terrified of my future, you've got another thing coming. And that thing is my scared, angry first, smashing through your apartment wall. Your messy, overpriced, uncool, apartment...wall. You're going to shrivel up; because you don't know anything about how to work this city, man.

Actually I'm on the move, ambitious, and in a rush to prove that I can be a success here, and indulge whatever pleasure strikes me at any moment of the day, anywhere. That's what it's all about, aside from constantly communicating with people. Ever heard of VIPOG*? I bet you haven't. It stands for...well, I'm not going to tell you.

Anywhere that's all there is to the city, all there is to know. Thanks for reading! Check me out on Facebook.

Hey Renner, Mike (Mzord and so) Christian,

Your penmanship is and still is fantastic, beautiful we saw the potential all along that is why we hired you hahaaaa. Your office is the the big tall one, London. United Kingdom, Europe. Yes you will notice that clairvoyance lifestyle is highly promoted in the big city office. There is all sorts to do. Co-workers are excited to meet you, they talk all day and don't really say anything. "" ADong only" is catchy, we think it should be the new header and footer on this weeks newsletters and resignation papers.

Wilma has been notified of it, she shall be told of it. For it?' as they say.

Anyway please only send one email at a time as the servers here are running on proto-spacewindows and linux1999. Don't work too hard as we need you for the big conference looking so fresh (believe me I know my hiphop) and so so clean. Please be clean.

We need you to make a song for our big campagne please. One minute or less, catchy as a hell, full of what is needed (see below)

Dear Wilma,

We heard of your incompetence recently. Can't say we are surprised.

As you must of course know we are expanding our humble office into an arrogant and bigger office and we have been hiring and firing all week as you probably should have noticed Wilma. New staff should be guided where possible and I have had private emails about it; the whole team knows for god's sake Wilma. Wilma you have added something unique and valuable to the team but I can't say any of us ever liked it. I think this is an A4 page but I will be dammed, there probably aren't even enough words to make this page full of words about who you are and what you have/ or/and/ haven't done. We wish you the best

Wilma, we wish you the best.

Truthfully and respectfully, dutifully.

Dear Manager & Co Manager,

Here's a little ditty that I picked up from a friend of mine who was just visiting Japan, super catchy

I figure we just use that instead of having me rent a studio (I'm running a little low on UK dollars anyways, I have somewhere around 3 or 4 left, pizza sure is expensive!)

Please refer to "Onett's Trumpet Player.mp3"

Here it is! I figured you gave me creative oversight so I only used saxophone, it's really popular here in Mexico, or am I in Venice? I can't tell. It's all Greek to me! Where ever it is, people keep telling me I can't sit down, it's really weird. I walk into a building and try to take a seat but someone comes over and ushers me out, I don't get it, is it something I said??

Try not to be hard on Wilma too much, I know it can be hard being clairvoyant. Hahah!!!!

I'm trying to make sure my spelling is correct, but it's hard when I haven't eaten anything all day. Feeling kind of wacky, maybe I'll read a book or drink some tea, maybe eat some fresh vegetables. Wow!

I'm tyinpg this on my phnoe and I saw someone hula-hooping. So much fun...

Sorry for the delayed time. Stocks are low here so we have been busy buying more, legal requirements/health and safety, /customer care, you know how "we roll"

Hello to our newest and most welcome employee, perhaps the last (fingers crossed lets hope not). Beige suits on you, I think you should wear way more beige, maybe we paint the office beige in honor of the fantastic colour beige. Some employees may not like it because of their nature, but when we have your standards so high we can make the exception. Anyway we did it. You will always have in a studio in the hearts of the team.

I am sorry to hear that you aren't eating so well, did you try the canteen? Downstairs I mean. Did you?

I think it seems you haven't found our building, as of course we haven't seen you around the office yet but not to worry you are stiull on the payroll and we trust that you are working so hard. Also noticed people are asking and talking about your new job with us but don't listen to their skepticism it's not right and truth be told that is all there is to it honestly.

Thanks for the fresh sound of a trumpet song We will definitely be using it in our new promotion, which I will email link to you as soon as the video is completed and finished. Keep it under raps though. We got things we don't want the big boys to pick up on if you know what I mean. Lets just say clairvoyant is the icing ;););)

Just wrote this up, tell me what you think manager and co-manager

"Dog Dispenser Review"

By Renner Oldman

The Dog Dispenser is a product that amazes me. It's beyond your wildest imagination. At first, I thought it was a product, but after seeing it, touching it, interfacing with it, it was much more than a product. It was a movie, a novel, and a social experience, some may even say, a Twitter-killer. Yes, it's true, and it doesn't need to be seen to be believed, trust me on that one, okay? The story and film was absolutely gripping, I was wrought over the metaphysical and industrial questions that were asked regarding technology and man's peaceful (or is it?) coexistence. Here's a short quote from the film/novel: "Here's the World War I flying ace posing beside his Sopwith 'Camel.' The Red Baron has been reported in the vicinity of Saint-Mihiel. I must bring him down. 'Switch off!' cries my mechanic. 'Coupez!' I reply. 'Contact?' 'Contact it is!' 'I think my dog has finally flipped!' Here I am flying high over France in my Sopwith 'Camel' searching for the infamous Red Baron! Suddenly antiaircraft fire begins to burst below my plane." Archie we call it. "Nyahh, nyahh, nyahh! You can't hit me!" Actually, tough flying aces never said, "Nyahh, nyahh, nyahh!" Good grief! What's that? It's the Red Baron! He's on my tail! A stream of tracer bullets cuts across my lower right wing..."Give my regards to Broadway!" As my plane strikes the ground, I leap from the cockpit! Right in my supper dish...How embarrassing! "Curse you, Red Baron!" Here's the World War I pilot asleep in his bunk being awaked to fly another dawn patrol. "Good morning, chaps! Another important mission today, eh what? But, I dare say they all are important, eh what?" Drat this fog! It's bad enough having to fight the Red Baron without having to fly in weather like this. When I get back I'm going to write a letter to President Wilson! Ah, the sun has broken through...I can see the woods of Montsec below...And what's that? It's a Fokker Triplane! "HA! This time I've got you, Red Baron! This time you've met your match!" "I hate that Red Baron!" The scene: AN aerodrome somewhere in France. The World War I flying ace is asleep on his bunk. Little does he realize that he is about to face the most terrible experience of his life! "Good morning, ground crew!" Here's the pilot standing next to his Sopwith "Camel" chatting with his faithful mechanics. Even at this early hour, they admire his calm courage. "Switch off!" "Coupez!" "Contact?" "Contact!" Soon I am flying high over France. I can see the little city of Pont-a-Mousson below...My strategy today is to cross the enemy lines near Verdun...I must find the Red Baron, and bring him down! "All right, Red Baron! Where are you? You can't hide forever!" "Aaugh! There he is! He's diving down out of the sun! He's tricked me again!" "I've got to run! Come on, Sopwith Camel, let's go! Go Camel, go!!!" "I can't shake him! He's riddling my plane with bullets! It bursts into flames!" "Curse you, Red Baron!" "I'm coming in right over the trees!" "AAUGH!" Here's the World War I pilot trapped behind enemy lines. "I'll never make it back! I'll be captured, and shot at dawn! I never should have left the Daisy Hill Puppy Farm!" "I miss my buddies!" That night I sneak through abandoned trenches. By day I sleep on haystacks. Dusk approaches...I must be on my way! "Good grief! A sentry!" I'll sneak up on him, grab him by the arm, and fling him over my back....Easy now...Mustn't let him see me....Easy...Okay, here he goes! One big flip, and over he goes! This is it...One big flip! Over he goes! One big flip! Okay, here he goes! Here's the World War I pilot continuing to make his way back through enemy lines. Oh no! more barbed wire! I'll have to make a run for it, and try to get through before the machine gunners see me! "What was that?" "I'm not sure, but I think it was a World War I pilot going through some barbed wire..." Ah! My journey is almost over...." What's this? A small French farm house! "Ah, mademoiselle...Do not be afraid....I am a pilot with the Allies....My plane was shot down by the Red Baron..." She does not understand ze English....ah, but she will understand that I am a handsome young pilot...And she? She is a beautiful French girl... "Soup? Ah, yes, mademoiselle....That would be wonderful! A little potato soup, and I will be on my way..." But how ca I bear to leave her? Perhaps someday I can return..."Au devoir, mademoiselle...Au devoir!" Ah, what a pity...Her heart is breaking. "Do not cry, my little one....Do not cry..." "Farewell! Farewell!" "Curse the Red Baron and his kind! Curse the wickedness in this world! Curse the evil that causes all this unhappiness! Here's the World War I flying ace back at his aerodrome in France....He is exhausted and yet he does not sleep, for one thought runs continuously through his mind..."Someday I'll get you, Red Baron!" Riveting, am I right? Totally, yes, I am right. After this, the book then sent me on a link to a website. I had no idea it was an alternate reality game, but it truly was. It led me to a site about the same dog that acted in the film/movie, (his name was Little Mozart) and the site was very much like Twitter. Extremely personal, revealing, diaristic, fascinating, and not shy, Little Mozart wrote a great deal about his life and existence. Here is a snapshot of what the beyond-reality site led me to:

A DONG ONLY

Outer space fascinates me.

Show me a veterinarian, and I'll show you a man who loves to wield a needle!

I love to hear the patter of rain on the roof while I'm sleeping.

Snow is nice too.

There's the ugliest sigh in the world...an empty dog dish!

I do a lot of complaining but actually I love my home!
Wow. What a story, right? And you're reading it here, and now. This is the Dog Dispenser. I talked to some friends about it and they couldn't put the book and movie down, actually, they had so much trouble trying to decide what to do first. Watch the movie? Or read the book? And some of them had ebook versions and were reading the tweets at the same time as the book and watching the movie and were so excited they had to put all three or two things down and yes you should buy this from us because it is so funny and rigorous.

Fooling around at work

A DONG ONLY

So, yes, this is a photo of the company holiday office party. I don't know the stranger on the left, but in the middle is Rob (apparently a unisex name in the UK) and on the right is Wilma. They were all so friendly, but the office camera didn't work so I had to take a picture of the screen instead (I thought it might be perceived as awkward but Wilma understood because she is clairvoyant). Thankfully no holy water incidents this time, hopefully we find the culprit soon enough.

Free and easy wandering,

Anonymous asked: c where are you working? it sounds really interesting.

Hey, good question. I don't know.

Work just sent over some sample pieces that are potentially going to be out next season. This one has a couple of typos. Back to the drawing board!

Luckily no typos on this one!

MERRY CHORSTMAS

I think everyone thinks you are faking your new job but you aren't and I am glad we are you are no1 meme. That is great!. Everyone in the office thinks so too and they are laughing so much at their own doing, no work is getting done though and stocks are very low at the moment, wish we could help.

Got to say that your review was perfect and over one hundred words positive. Georgio got fired, he didn't make any graphics on time. You are ready to perform, I think that is clear from your social networking, your audience are ready for for you to perform I am sure they see that and I think you know that but then. maybe they haven't caught up. I think you have been at the wrong work place bro (told you) check your pictures I have attached one is that familiar?? NAnyway I have had one too many punches and there is a vibe here, can't seem to place my finger on it. The office misses you there are a lot of objects here mostly, for fucks sake I am drunk on office wine. Anyway you are a great presence here in the office, for fucks sake. The office is a hell hole but the team is okay, can't say I pity their "powers" is that you in the e-background? Over a dozen team memebbers have gone now, fuck them. Fuck them all. Just four left,

I hope you haven't got it all wrong.

Cutbacks

At precisely 0:13am last night Georgio smashed one of our windows. Now, we have summoned the architectural healers and they should be with us very soon. Unfortunately this means some cutbacks, which unfortunately means if your name isn't on this list it means that Georgio's tantrum over losing his job means that you have lost your job. List;

Re: Cutbacks

Dear Manager and Co -manager at Mango Mango inc.

This will be a long response. We have much to discuss. But also, that thing is happening where I look at a word, say "show" and I write the word and the word suddenly becomes without meaning. Foreign. Pictureless. and so on and so forth. So I must stop, every few lines to use the dictionary on my Mac computer. Alborz thinks I'm slow with computers. Still, I am after all his secretary. Oh. I forgot my own introduction (always thinking of boss first! You understand, I trust you know what I mean).

Hello, I am Mr. Bambaataa's Secretary. [Have you seen the movie? Its like that.] I am writing on his behalf due to the heavy holiday influx: his talents are in high demand. Projections, transmutations (he's quite the alchemist! Have you seen his work?), people demand all types of things. You for example. The office looks clean and without association. We are pleased with the office. BUT my boss, Megazord, is a man who on the inside might be screaming something akin to 'bitch pay me!', but you just wouldn't be wise to it. You understand. Look, I'm just gonna say it: I don't get paid if Zord doesn't get paid. And I live fancy. Have you seen our shared closet?

In Regards to Business:

+ I am most compassionate. It is lightly snowing here and everything feels soft, but, your stocks on the down-and-down, that feels too soft. I like things harder. Growing> we need to see a rise in these stocks! I fear this could HURT my Christian's reputation in the art world. We wouldn't want any soft failings hanging around. You understand.

+ If I am not mistaken "over one hundred words positive" is grounds for a sweet little you know what I mean. I trust you understand. He's just so good at what he does and HE DOES IT ALL. Have you seen the photos? They are somewhere near the graphics. Georgio couldn't do it all...

- On Georgio: An Excursion

Georgio NEEDED to be fired. His graphics were late but more than that, he hated women. I know, I slept with him once. Listen, lets get back to the biz, we can both agree Georgio was a racist misogynist and be done with it. Luckily, Mr. Oldham and myself do not believe in 'race' as a concept, so he was only really half as offensive to us at cooler time.

+ My Boss is more than ready to perform. He performed last night, and is scheduled for tonight but its all very hush hush. Have you seen the flyers? I think his exposure levels are high now and its a good time to have his fans be got at. My boss has very few fears. Yet he is a sensitive man. Bro, do you fucking feel me? Could this "performance" psychically harm him? I read the damage report manifesto for psychically harmed ex-employees at your corporation. I cant say it excited me. I was however excited by how drunk you sounded in your last correspondence. I looked for you at the holiday party. So did Christian. We were both hoping for a separate private audience, in front of the other employees. Jealousy and suspicion are powerful tools when it comes to arts

A DONG ONLY

+ The team seems relatively strong but I would need the real deets on which Art World round robin we'll be entering first. I find Christian stable in competition. He has never been know to penknife a person, but he has accidentally made one or two bad art. Have you seen them? Please forget i mentioned it. I think its best if we just focus on letting the focus be his work. Maybe we should see about entering the contest in Miami? I had a girlfriend of mine do a vfile down in Miami for art Basil and it looked warm. I think a warm place like that might be good for the productivity of the whole office. You're not allowed to wear sweaters there! And there was a woman named Diamond Amazin' who lived there and I know Alborz finds interesting people inspiring.

As for the very personal part of this letter, I must admit, I am more than just C.A.M.O.'s Secretary.

Re: Tehcnical

We are very pleased to see has Megazord made the list. 0:13 is never a comfortable time for anyone. But to lose your job over it, really! I for one had little doubts of his ability to preform the assigned tasks, but the man himself has begun to existentially dry heave. He is completely unsure of himself in regards to his future as an employee, artist, object of affection, enemy of Georgio, and most importantly as a...well, you know (wouldn't want to be TOO explicit, the way these things seem to swerve amongst the team. probably better just to keep that last one between us). Needless to say I'll be responding on his behalf until he can control his fingers. Anyhow,WHAT did I tell you about Georgio!!! If it weren't for the architectural variety of healer we'd all be cold now! If he had thrown the tantrum in Miami it wouldn't have mattered so much maybe? Listen, I've know some pathetic fArtworld men, and some even more pathetic privileged classist ones like Georgio. The one I slept with right before Georgio threw a tantrum in the middle of mild conversation at my favorite burger joint! Fists balled banging fries around. He should also be fired. If you would like to fire him as well, I can direct you to his place of employment (upon request) in my next correspondence.

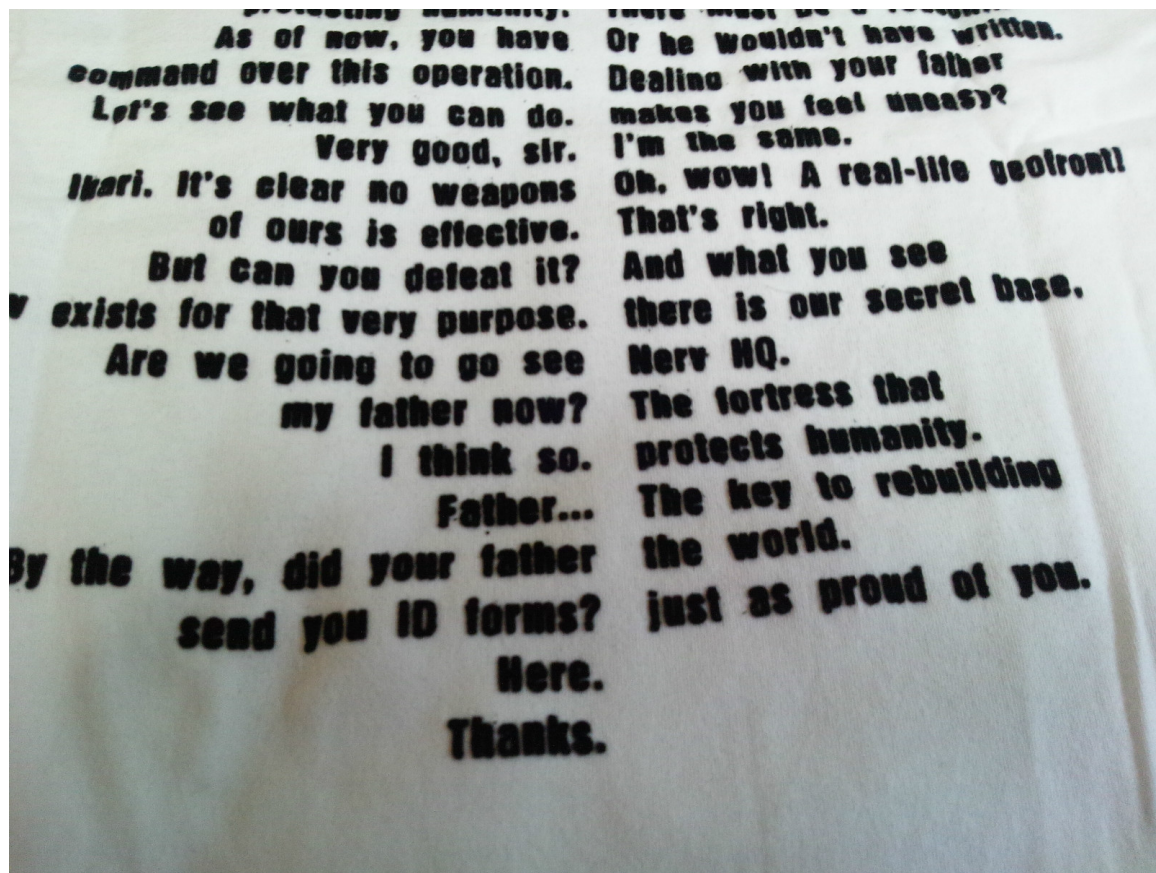

Listen. Because of Mr. Oldham's current mental state, I would like to request a contract be draw, so that he might find some stability, if not in his manhood, then at least in his job (maybe you could throw in the vase currently stored behind the glutino in the upper left cabinet facing the broken window in the break room. He really loves flowers and I have a feeling the vases might symbolize dedication, current employment and a man's wellbeing).

Thank you.
